| 27 | PLD.92.LXIV | The suppression of immoral traffic in women and girls act, 1956. 1976. iv, 92p. 24.2cm. Rs. 3.65 or 8 sh. 7d or 1$32 cents. (Sixty-fourth report). |
|----|-------------|---|

Having regard to the new and sophisticated modes of commercial prostitution, the Commission has recommended a revision in the definition of "brothel" and "prostitution" and also of the expressions "corrective institutions" and "protective homes".

The Commission has also recommended several non-legislative measures for improving the administration on the subject to the effect that the number of women police officers should be adequate to carry out the work entrusted to them under the Act and that suitable action should be initiated to see that the children of prostitutes do not imbibe the undesirable atmosphere of life in brothels.

The Commission in its Report has observed that the Interest Act, 1839 is a very old one and has recommended a total revision of the Act to make its provisions comprehensive, precise, specific, unambiguous and juristically satisfactory. They have also recommended that the Act being one of general importance there should be a self-contained Statute on the subject containing in one place, in an intelligible form, the relevant provisions which at present, the ordinary citizen has to gather from numerous judicial pronouncements.
